For service to international humanitarian aid, particularly through the provision of dental health services and pastoral care to the people of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, and to the community.

Dr Toulmin, a qualified dentist, trained as a missionary in 1985 and moved with his family to the Democratic Republic of the Congo with the Church Missionary Society in 1987 where he and his wife established a small dental clinic in a town called Butembo. He travelled to outlying villages offering dental services and commenced training nurses in dental procedures; these nurse eventually took over the work from him.

Dr Toulmin and his family returned to Australia in 1990 to raise funds for a new Butembo Dental Clinic; They returned to the Congo, and the clinic opened in 1993.

Following civil war and reduced funding to African projects, on returning to Australia Dr Toulmin, an accomplished trumpet player, and his wife founded an organisation called, 'Brass for Africa' (money for Africa) which over the next 14 years built a maternity clinic, established another dental clinic some 600 kms to the north of the original clinic, provided care and support for 34 clergy, helped build schools, supported AIDS orphans, and provided food and medical supplies for the increasing number of refugees fleeing the civil war. They accomplished this by making CDs, giving Jazz concerts and sponsoring Congolese nationals to visit Australia to make more widely known the plight of the Congolese people. Over 20,000 CDs were sold, and the entrepreneurial work still continues even though 'Brass for Africa' wound down in 2007 and administration was transferred to an arm of Springwood-Winmalee Anglican Church (NSW).

Dr Toulmin continues with fundraising activities for the support of the dental clinics for the people of the Democratic Republic of the Congo.
