

MEMBER (AM) IN THE MILITARY DIVISION OF THE ORDER OF AUSTRALIA

Royal Australian Navy

Captain Jonathan David SADLEIR RAN, ACT

For exceptional performance of duties as the Director Navy Continuous Improvement, Commanding Officer HMAS Parramatta and as Staff Officer Global Operations.

Captain Sadleir's leadership and drive as Staff Officer Global Operations in Military Strategic Commitments Branch, at sea as Commanding Officer HMAS Parramatta and in the delivery of crucial business reforms across the Royal Australian Navy have been extraordinary. The passion, tenacity and diligence of his Sea Command and strategic staff and business reform endeavours have delivered significant operational, financial and capability improvements to the Royal Australian Navy. He has contributed significantly to the success of Navy and Defence strategic reforms.

Australian Army

Major General Stephen Julian DAY DSC, ACT

For exceptional service to the Australian Defence Force as Commander of the 7th Brigade and Head Joint Capability Coordination.

Major General Day has made significant contributions to the operational capability of the Australian Defence Force through his command of the 7th Brigade and his insightful development of its motorised capability. His leadership and diligence as Head Joint Capability Coordination have led directly to the efficient and effective linkage between joint concepts, experimentation and capability development.

Lieutenant Colonel Michael Edward GARRAWAY, SA

For exceptional service in the field of officer career management in 2009 and as Commanding Officer, 7th Battalion, the Royal Australian Regiment, from 2010 to 2012.

As a career manager, Lieutenant Colonel Garraway was pivotal in establishing the Army Officer Career Pathway Strategy for officer career development. As Commanding Officer of the 7th Battalion, the Royal Australian Regiment, he generated outstanding foundation warfighting skills enabling the Regiment to be prepared for operational deployments. His exemplary leadership and devotion to service contributed significantly to the maintenance of the Australian Army's force preparedness and operational readiness.

Major General Paul David McLACHLAN CSC, Vic

For exceptional service to the Australian Defence Force as the Director General Development and Plans - Army, and as the Commander of the 7th Brigade.

Major General McLachlan has provided exceptional service to the nation through his leadership of the 7th Brigade and his pivotal role in the modernisation and rebalancing of the capabilities within the Australian Army. His efforts in these pivotal roles will have long lasting benefits to Army capability through the digitisation of the Army's Multirole Combat Brigades.

MEMBER (AM) IN THE MILITARY DIVISION OF THE ORDER OF AUSTRALIA

Brigadier Barry Neil McMANUS CSC, United States of America

For exceptional service to the Australian Defence Force as the Director General Capability and Plans and as the Army Attaché to the United States of America.

Brigadier McManus has provided exceptional service to the nation through his leadership of capability development integration with the Strategic Reform Program and his integral role in Australia's Defence relationship with the United States of America and Canada.

Brigadier Jane Maree SPALDING, NSW

For exceptional service to the Australian Defence Force in the fields of recruiting and strategic reform.

Brigadier Spalding has been consistently diligent and innovative in leading a number of key reform agendas over recent years. She has been responsible for the remediation of recruiting contracts and the implementation of the Australian Army's strategic reform. Her efforts should provide dividends in the form of more recruits for the Australian Defence Force and more effective use of resources for the Australian Army.

Colonel Wade Bradley STOTHART, ACT

For exceptional service as Commanding Officer Timor Leste Battle Group - Four, Commanding Officer of the 3rd Battalion, the Royal Australian Regiment, Military Assistant to the Commander Forces Command and Director of Officer Career Management - Army.

Colonel Stothart has consistently demonstrated strong leadership and commitment to duty in key command, staff and career management appointments. His dedicated operational and staff service has had a significant and positive effect on the well-being of deployed troops and delivered improved career management for all Army officers that has enhanced and should continue to enhance the Australian Army's personnel capability.
