Mr Donald David ROWLANDS, (Honorary)

18 Riverview Road, Panmure, Auckland New Zealand, 1072

For significant service to the sport of rowing

Mr Donald Rowlands has played an active role in the sport of rowing. He has demonstrated his passion for the sport as a competitor, supporter and administrator of the sport. Mr Rowlands made significant contributions to Australian rowing through the generous contribution of his knowledge and time.

In 1974 the world body of Rowing (FISA) appointed Mr Rowlands its representative for Australia and New Zealand - a position held until 1992.

He was a voluntary adviser to the development of rowing courses in Australia, including the 1990 World Rowing Championship course at Lake Barrington in Tasmania, and the Sydney Olympic course at Penrith.

Mr Rowlands is widely recognised for his enormous contribution to the development of rowing in our region and as the architect of the extraordinary international success which rowers from Australia have enjoyed over the last 50 years.
