ORDER of AUSTRALIA
HER

Majesty

The

QUEEN
A MESSAGE FROM HIS EXCELLENCY GENERAL THE HONOURABLE SIR PETER COSGROVE AK MC (Retd)

The Australian honours system is a vital part of our social fabric. Honours help define, encourage and reinforce our national aspirations, ideals and standards by identifying those among us who make an outstanding contribution to our society.

The recipients of Australian honours and awards are very special men and women whose actions have set them apart and enriched our community across a broad range of professional, public and community service sectors.

In their daily lives these admirable people demonstrate those values that we as a nation hold dear—compassion, civility, dedication, courage, kindness, tolerance, and energetic ambition. They inspire us all to be more enthusiastic and giving, to uphold the responsibility of being fully engaged citizens.

On behalf of all Australians, I congratulate and thank all recipients of honours and awards, past and present. I highly regard your contribution and deeply appreciate your generosity of spirit. You are a source of motivation to us all.

QUITE SIMPLY, OURS IS A FAR RICHER AND STRONGER COMMUNITY BECAUSE OF YOU—WELL DONE.

INTRODUCTION
The Order of Australia is the pre-eminent way Australians recognise achievements and service of their fellow citizens. In the Australian honours system appointments to and awards in the Order of Australia confer recognition for outstanding achievement and service.

The Governor-General is Chancellor of the Order and is charged with its administration and the appointment of its Secretary. Traditionally, the Official Secretary to the Governor-General serves as the Secretary of the Order.

Upon publication of their award, recipients are entitled to have the appropriate post-nominals placed after their name on all occasions when the use of such letters is customary.

HISTORY
The Order of Australia, instituted by Her Majesty The Queen on 14 February 1975, was established as “an Australian society of honour for the purpose of according recognition to Australian citizens and other persons for achievement or for meritorious service”.

The Order comprised a Civil Division and a Military Division, with three levels in each, Companion, Officer and Member. On 24 May 1976 The Queen, on the advice of the Prime Minister, changed the name of the Civil Division to General Division and added two further levels of award—a Knight and Dame in the General Division, each having equal status, and ranking above the Companion; and a Medal of the Order in both the General Division and Military Division ranking below the Member.

Her Majesty The Queen approved further amendments to the Constitution of the Order on 3 March 1986 which removed the Knight and Dame level in the General Division, but without prejudice to existing appointments.

On 19 March 2014, on the advice of the Prime Minister, Her Majesty The Queen restored the levels of Knight and Dame in the Order of Australia. On 29 October 2015 the provision to appoint Knights and Dames was removed.

GENERAL DIVISION
Australian citizens are eligible to receive awards in the General Division. Nominations may be made by any person or organisation to the Australian Honours and Awards Secretariat at Government House, Canberra.
All nominations are researched by the Secretariat before submission to the Council for the Order of Australia which is a body established under the Constitution of the Order and is representative of the Australian community. The Council meets twice yearly and considers all nominations before making recommendations for awards to the Governor-General as Chancellor.

Awards in the Order of Australia are publicly announced on Australia Day (26 January) and The Queen’s Birthday public holiday (June).

Criteria for the levels are as follows:

- Appointments as Companions (AC) shall be made for eminent achievement and merit of the highest degree in service to Australia or to humanity at large.
- Appointments as Officers (AO) shall be made for distinguished service of a high degree to Australia or to humanity at large.
- Appointments as Members (AM) may be made for service in a particular locality or field of activity or to a particular group.
- Awards of the Medal of the Order (OAM) may be made for service worthy of particular recognition.

People who are not Australian citizens can also be recognised by awards in the Order of Australia; these are honorary awards. Of these, permanent residents are recommended to the Governor-General by the Council for the Order of Australia, while other non-citizens are recommended by the Prime Minister. Excluding honorary appointments, no more than 35 Companions, 140 Officers and 365 Members shall be appointed in any calendar year. There is no quota limitation on awards of the Medal of the Order.
MILITARY DIVISION

Members of the Australian Defence Force are eligible to receive awards in the Order of Australia in the Military Division. Members of the armed forces of a country other than Australia are eligible for honorary awards in the Order of Australia in the Military Division.

Nominations for awards in the Military Division of the Order are made to the Governor-General as Chancellor on the recommendation of the Minister for Defence.

Criteria for the levels are as follows:

- Appointments as Companions (AC) shall be made for eminent service in duties of great responsibility.
- Appointments as Officers (AO) shall be made for distinguished service in responsible positions.
- Appointments as Members (AM) may be made for exceptional service or performance of duty.
- Awards of the Medal of the Order (OAM) may be made for meritorious service or performance of duty.

In any calendar year the number of appointments may not exceed one-tenth of one percent of the average number of persons who were members of the Defence Force on each day of the immediately preceding year.

VARIOUS INSIGNIA ARE ILLUSTRATED IN DIFFERENT STYLES. THE ACTUAL PIECES FOR THE TWO DIVISIONS OF THE ORDER ARE IDENTICAL: TO DISTINGUISH BETWEEN THE DIVISIONS, THE RIBBON FOR THE MILITARY DIVISION HAS A NARROW GOLD BAND ON EACH EDGE. THE STYLE OF MOUNTING MAY VARY ACCORDING TO THE WISHES OF THE RECIPIENTS.
